Members of Congress Here—Return West—Additional Three Per Cents—Revenue Appointments—Grant at Work—Court of Inquiry—Eminent Lawyer Commits Suicide—Agent to St. Domingo—Admitted to Bail—Colfax Not at Home.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 9, 1868.

SENATORS AND MEMBERS OF CONGRESS HERE.

Speaker Colfax arrived here this morning. Ingersoll, of Illinois, is the only other member of the House known to be in the city. Senators Wade, Morgan, Cameron and Corbett are here.

INTERNAL REVENUE APPOINTMENTS.

The following Internal Revenue appointments were made to-day: Gaugers—D. R. Risley and Julius Change, First Missouri; J. J. Hoyt; A. B. Smith and L. W. Nixon, First Illinois; Geo. Gecher, Twenty-first Pennsylvania; John H. Roberts, Twenty-second Pennsylvania; Wm. M. Russell, Fourth Ohio. Storekeepers—St. Clair Sutherland, Fourteenth Illinois; Humphrey Best, Eighth Kentucky.

GEN. GRANT AT WORK.

General Grant was at Army Headquarters at nine o'clock this morning, and engaged at once in the performance of his official duties. Several gentlemen called on him this morning to pay their respects. Among the number were the Vice President elect, Secretary Schofield, Maj. Gen. Thomas, Senators Wade and Morgan and others.

AN EMINENT LAWYER COMMITS SUICIDE.

General A. B. Read, an eminent lawyer of this city, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself through the head with a Derringer pistol. He served well and gallantly in the Mexican army, and during the rebellion was a member of the Confederate Congress. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. Pecuniary embarrassments are said to have led him to the committal of the rash act.

MEETING OF THE COURT OF INQUIRY.

Maj. Gens. Geo. H. Thomas, Hancock and Terry, the officers comprising the Court of Inquiry, to investigate the case of Gen. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, assembled in this city this morning.

COLFAX NOT AT HOME.

A number of the friends of Mr. Colfax called at his residence to-night to tender him their congratulations, but he was not at home, having gone to dine with General Grant.

WILL RETURN WEST.

After the declaration of the adjournment of Congress to morrow, Wade and Colfax will return to the West.

ADDITIONAL THREE PER CENTS.

The Secretary of the Treasury will order an additional amount of three per cents to be issued, if necessary, to relieve the money market.

HAVANA.

Famine and Desolation Feared—The Mails Seized—Suspension of the Death Penalty in Certain Cases—Disturbances not General on the Island.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, November 9.—The Diario to day pulishes the following intelligence: Col. Lano, who left the town of Tumas on an expedition in the the country in search of provisions and supplies, has returned without success, the insurgents having destroyed everything of the kind within their reach. The Diario says many bands of robbers are committing depredations on plantations, acting under the pretence of being revolutionists. The planters in a large portion of the eastern districts of the Island are consequently unable to harvest their crops. This state of things it is feared will lead to famine and desolation.

A mail carrier was assaulted last week and the mails rifled by the rebels who have seized the mails at various points in the disturbed district.

Captain General Lersundi has received a telegram from the Home Government authorizing him to suspend, or not, at his discretion, as occasion may require, the death penalty in cases of persons condemned for political offences.

The insurrectionary disturbances are confined to the Eastern Districts. The rest of the Island continues tranquil.

ST. LOUIS.

LOUISIANA.

Action of the Republican State Committee --Gens. Rousseau and Buchanan Highly Reprehended.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 9.—A special to the Tribune dated at New Orleans, November 7th, says: The Republican State Committee to-day unanimously resolved that the administration of Major General Rousseau and General Buchanan, especially their partizan conduct during the recent tumults, riots and massacres in this city and State, are highly reprehensible, in that they exhibited sympathy with and partiality for the rebel Democracy and emboldened them in their attempts to overthrow the State Government, and carry the election even by fraud, violence and bloodshed.

[Signed] S. B. PACKARD, Chairman.
R. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary.

North Carolina—Good Feeling Between Parties.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WILMINGTON, Nov. 9.—Sufficient returns have been received from the Seventh Congressional District to show the election of Durham, Conservative. The delegation stands four Republican and two Conservatives, a Democratic gain of one. The best of feeling prevails here between the races. The Conservatives submit gracefully to the election of Grant, and are determined to do their part to sustain the Government.

Gloomy State of Affairs—Government has no Money—Revolution Spreading.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 9.—Advices from St. Domingo state that the condition of the country grows worse every day.

No business is doing, and the Government has no money.

It is doubtful if any support will be rendered Mr. Sullivan's proposed plan of steamers to New York and New Orleans.

The revolution was spreading.

CALIFORNIA.

Recount of the City Vote--Congressman Elected--Oregon Election--Earthquake at Hilo--Insurrection in Hawahahay--Sheriff Murdered, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The Board of Supervisors, ordered to recount the city vote, found one package of ballots in possession of the county clerk, bearing evidence of having been tampered with. An immense amount of money is at stake on the result of the vote in the city and State. Probably recounts will be made in other localities.

A shock of an earthquake was felt at Victoria on November 4th.

Arrived—Loeinda, Sydney, Carruta, New Castle, England and Southern Chieftain, from New York.

Sailed—Ontario, for New York.

Sergeant, Republican, is elected to Congress in the Second District by a majority of over 3,000. The Third district is still in doubt, with the chances in favor of Horton, Republican.

In the returns from Oregon fifteen counties give Grant over 500 majority, with nine counties to hear from.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 6—The steamship Constitution sailed to-day for Panama with $572,000 in treasure, $191,500 for New York, $166,000 for England. Judge Field and George C. Gorham were passengers.

Flour is in good demand at $5,25a6,25. Wheat—good snipping, sells at $1,75. Legal Tenders, 75.

Honolulu advices of October 12th say that commercial news are unimportant and nothing later has been heard from the whaling fleet. Frequent shocks of earthquakes were felt at Hilo. At Moslien the air was filled with smoke, and the natives predicted a great tidal wave and deluge. Hundreds of natives fled to the mountains for safety. The prediction failed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The steamer Montana arrived to-day, bringing Honolulu advices to October 24th. Dr. J. Mott Smith, envoy of the Hawahahay government to Washington, is a passenger, appointed as Solicitor by the leading citizens of the Islands to assist in procuring the passage of the Reciprocity Treaty at the next session of Congress.

An insurrection has broken out in Hawahahay.

The sheriff attempted to arrest one Koona, who calls himself a prophet and predicts the end of the world. Koona's followers resisted and killed the Sheriff and cut off his head and stuck it on a pole. The Deputy Sheriff was badly wounded, and his life is despaired of. Several native policemen were injured in attempting to suppress the revolt.

The English war vessel Scout sailed for England via Taluti Valparaiso Oct. 15th. The ship Ceeylon arrived from Boston October 16.

ALABAMA.

Legistature in Session—Election Returns.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, November 9.—The Legislature was engaged on local business. Gov. Smith sent in a message to-day in relation to appropriations in aid of clearing out and making navigable the rivers leading into the coal and iron regions of the State.

Returns from thirty counties give Grant about ten thousand majority. The remaining counties, thirty-two, with the exception of two, will all probably give Seymour majorities. The State is still close and doubtful. Hundreds of white men did not vote, because they did not have an opportunity of registering, while many others would not take the voter's oath.

Tennessee Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 9.—The Legislature assembled to-day, but neither House had a quorum.

The Nashville Republican of this evening says the official returns from the Fourth Congressional District, elect Tillman, Republican, by two hundred majority. Full returns have not been received at the office of the Secretary of State. The returns referred to by the Republican were received at Shelbyville, the residence of Colonel Tillman. A contest is probable whether Tillman or Sheafe gets the certificate.

A German Murdered--Drug Store Robbed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MADISON, Ind., November 9.—A German named Nicholas Suave, living in the country west of this city, was fouud in the road dead early yesterday morning, a few miles out of the city, with his skull broken and his body otherwise beaten. His pockets had been rifled, and he is supposed to have been murdered and robbed. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the deed.

The drug store of Messrs. Harper & Weyer, of this city, was broken into on Sunday night and robbed of seventy-five dollars.

Michigan Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DETROIT, November 9.—The Post has returns from nearly all the counties in Michigan, showing a total Republican majority of thirty thousand three hundred and and seventeen. Is is believed the full official returns will increase this to thirty-one thousand. Ferry's majority in the fourth district will be fully 8,500—a gain of 1,300 over the vote of 1866—Strickland's majority in the Sixth district by nearly 4,000.

Firemens' Association—Regular Quarterly Meeting.

A regular quarterly meeting of the Pittsburgh Firemens' Association was held last evening, President Cupples in the chair.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read by W. B. Neeper, Secretary, and on motion adopted.

The resignation of Mr. Frank J. Kohlbecker, as assistant engineer, was presented and accepted.

Mr. McCarthy moved that when the Association adjourn it be to meet on Monday evening next, for the purpose of electing an assistant engineer to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Kohlbecker.

On motion of Mr. Simms the motion was laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Swint, the election of an Assistant Engineer was postponed until after the regular business had been concluded.

Sundry bills were read, received and ordered to be filed.

A communication, from the Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, asking to be admitted to the Association, was read and accepted.

Considerable discussion ensued as to the manner of admitting new companies to the Association, and it was finally agreed that the constitution would have to be amended before new companies could be admitted.

On motion, the Committee appointed at a previous meeting to revise the Constitution were discharged, and an effort made to appoint a new committee, but those named all declined the honor of serving on the Committee.

The following Committee was finally appointed: Messrs. Robinson, Swint and Tibby.

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

Mr. John H. Hare, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, presented his report for the six months ending November 9th, 1868. The report shows the number of fires and alarms for that time to have been fifty-four, of which there were but four false alarms. Of the fires, five occurred during the month of May, four in June, ten in July, ten in August, four in September, eighteen in October, and three in November. The report concludes as follows: "I desire to return my sincere thanks to the members of the Fire Department for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have discharged their duties."

The report was received and filed.

The Chair announced that the Association was now ready to receive nominations for First Assistant Engineer, when John Watt, of the Allegheny, and John Robinson, of the Neptune, were placed in nomination.

On motion, the nominations closed.

The delegates then proceeded to ballot, with the following result: Robinson, six; Watt, six. A second ballot resulted as follows: Robinson, nine; Watt, four; and Mr. Robinson was declared duly elected.

On motion of Mr. Sims, the Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph was requested to strike the tower bell five times in cases of alarms after night. Adopted.

The Association then adjourned.

MORTGAGES.

Same day eleven mortgages were filed.

At a Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Central Bank, the following resoulutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we have heard with great sorrow of the death of Allen Kramer, Esq., Vice President of this Bank.

Resolved, That this community has lost one of its most kind-hearted, benevolent, public-spirited and noblest citizens; that the Bankers have lost one whose spotless integrity and scrupulous sense of honor, made him an examplar whom all honored and emulated.

Resolved, That this Bank has lost a judicious counsellor and most highly valued friend; that this Board most keenly feels his absence from our midst; that his gentle nature, his kind and agreeable manners, his delicacy of feeling, especially and warmly attached him to us all.

Resolved, That as a mark of our respect, this Board of Directors attend his funeral in a body. By the Board.

THOS. FAWCETT, President,
M. HUNNINGS, Assistant Cashier.

Professor J. William Pope, whose genius is so patriotic, prolific and powerful, has brought us a copy of a new song fresh from his tuneful brain. When the Professor does not write campaign songs there is a sweet melancholy prevalent in his works which forms one of their great charms. To this class of his works "Leave Me Alone in My Sorrow" is no exception, and ere long we expect to hear its sweet, plaintive notes warbled by almost every fair warbler in our acquaintance. Mr. C. C. Mellor is the publisher.

Attempt of Ladies to Vote.

On Tuesday Mrs. Hannah Blackwell and Mrs. Lucy Stone, property holders and tax payers in Orange county, New Jersey, presented themselves at the polls in Roseville Park, and demanded to have their votes for Grant and Colfax deposited. The Judges of the election were divided as to the propriety of the course to take upon this application, one of them favoring and the other opposing it. The ladies stated that they had taken advice from eminent lawyers, and were satisfied that, in New Jersey, women were legally entitled to vote, from conferred suffrage upon "all inhabitants" worth two hundred and fifty dollars. Under that Constitution women did in fact very generally vote until, in 1807, by an arbitrary act of the Legislature, women were excluded from the polls. The new Constitution, adopted in 1844, was framed by a Convention and adopted by a constituency; from bothwomen were unconstitutionally excluded, so they have never been allowed to vote on the question of their disfranchisement. The article in the present Constitution on the right of suffrage confers it upon white male citizens, but does not expressly limit it to such. It was claimed that from the absence of any express limitation in the present Constitution, and from the compulsory exclusion of the parties interested from its adoption, the political rights of women under the old Constitution still remain.

The affair created a great deal of excitement, and after much consultation an adverse decision was arrived at.

All we have to say is, that if the fair sex in New Jersey had been permitted to vote, there is no doubt that the State would have been redeemed, and a splendid majority recorded for Grant and Colfax.

TREATMENT OF THE INSANE.—It is stated that at Gheel, in Belgium, twenty-six miles southeast of Antwerp, there is a colony of insane persons. From time immemorial, all idiotic and insane persons of peaceable habits in Belgium have been sent to this town, and they now number nearly two thousand. They are dispersed among the inhabitants of the town of Gheel, and among the inhabitants that surround it. Those requiring more especial care, and mechanics working at their trades, are located in the town itself, boarding in the different households, under the especial care of the mistress, whilst the chronic and quieter cases are dispersed among the farmsteads in the immediate neighborhood. To ten sane members of the population there is one mentally afflicted. This army of lunatics at large is perfectly manageable, and seldom commits any outrage.

WHEN Gen. Reynolds was informed that Gen. Canby was to relieve him in the command of Texas, he exclaimed: "Thank God!" Gen. Canby will start for Texas next week. He is not only to be Military Gommander, but Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Texas. He does not relish the transfer from Washington to Texas. His admirers, while sympathizing with his misfortune, are glad that the loyal people of Texas are to have for a commander a friend and protector. Gen. Reynolds will resume command of his regiment—the 26th Infantry—stationed at Austin, his headquarters.

THE new steel rail has been laid on the down track of the Hudson River Railroad as far north as Poughkeepsie, and the work is proceeding vigorously. On the up track it is laid as far as Cold Spring. It will not be laid any further on this track until the change on the down track is completed to Albany. This has been found necessary on account of the vast preponderance of southward-bound freight over that going north. The work on the down track it is expected will be completed before Winter sets in.

THE MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE is reported to be in a flourishing condition as regards students, but to be embarassed for want of funds. The students at present number eighty-two, and the graduates are in great demand to fill the positions of instructors in other institutions. The State contributes about twenty-five thousand dollars per annum.

A RECENT medical writer states that the vices of the American character may be briefly summed up as follows: 1st. An inordinate passion for riches. 2d. Over-work of mind and body in the pursuit of business. 3d. Undue hurry and excitement in all the affairs of life. 4th. Intemperance in eating, drinking and smoking. 5th. A general disregard of the true laws of life and health.

IO TRIUMPHE!

A THANKSGIVING SONG FOR 1868.

BY BREVET LIEUT. COL. J. H. MEREDITH.

Ring out, glad joy bells,
O'er land and o'er sea;
Right is triumphant,
The Nation is free.

Thunder, O cannon!
Not vain our trust:
The Faithful have conquered,
As conquer they must.

Beat the drums gaily,
And shout, Loyal Band!
The Chief of our Army
Is Chief of our Land!

Smite the glad cymbals!
His motto shall be,
"Stand fast and stand sure,
Craig Ellachie!"

Wave on the free winds,
Old Flag, so long riven;
On its sacred folds shine,
Sweet stars from yon heaven!

Flash, lightnings electric!
Tell the nations abroad,
This people is led by
The hand of the Lord.

Beam, Sun of Autumn,
Where gleaners have come,
And slow wains are bearing
The Harvest gold home.

Smile, Moon of Hunters,
And tenderly shed
Thy radiance where slumber
Our glorious dead.

Rust, sword, in your scabbard,
For won is the fight;
Grant and Colfax are chosen;
So God speeds the Right.

Ring, ye glad joy bells!
Let enmity cease;
O brothers grasp hands in Thanksgiving and Peace!

EPHEMERIS.

—London has a wickedest man.

—Gen. Hooker is by no means well.

—Secretary Seward is in Washington.

—There is a velocipede riding school in Paris.

—In Toronto people are arrested for sacrilege.

—Scotch girls are not allowed to vote in Scotland.

—Blue eyed children are fashionable in St. Louis.

—Dumas Jr., says he will come to America in May.

—Anna Swann the eight foot giantess is in Montreal.

—The New York Bloomers wear Scotch plaid trousers.

—Portable iron hospitals are the invention of an Englishman.

—Knee breeches have at last been introduced in New York.

—Chignons as well as wedding presents can be hired in Paris.

—Sitka, the Aliaskan metropolis, has not one thousand inhabitants.

—Isabella's head has been punched out of Spanish postage stamps.

—Tomahawk thinks a chignon is not the well known "Rightful Heir."

—Snuff dipping is not as fashionable as it once was with Southern belles.

—The Hanlons had a velocipede race at Druid Park, in Baltimore, the other day.

—Ole Bull is to give two concerts in Chicago on Friday and Saturday of this week.

—Victor Emanuel's daughter, the Queen of Portugal, is crazy, and lives in a padded room.

—500 Jesuits have fled from Spain to Portugal since the hurried departure of Queen Isabella.

—Kangaroos are becoming almost as serious a pest as grasshoppers in South America.

—A Scotchman in Scotland being ordered leeches by his physician, took them boiled in his gruel.

—General Wurtemburg, Prince William of Austria, a live Hapsburger, is at a hotel in New York.

—The Youth of Shakespeare is the name of an opera almost done. The composer is Alfred Holmes.

—Liebig, the chemist, like some other great men, is dreadfully troubled by silly correspondents.

—There are some pirates on the lower Onio; we shall soon hear of them on the "raging kanawl."

—The Prince Royal of Belgium is not dead yet and his physicians begin to indulge in small doses of hope.

—Nashville thieves steal chimneys; a fine one belonging to a two storied house was taken the other day.

—A man in Buffalo recently was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment for stealing an umbrella.

—A cheap edition of Hallam's Middle Ages has been printed in England as the copyright has expired.

—The Pope is going to re-organize and restore the order of St. John of Jerusalem or the Knights of Malta.

—Louisiana planters are trying to get rid of the negroes by advertising for white laborers to take their places.

—Pike is said to have made $200,000 by the sale of his Opera House in New York to the Erie Railway Company.

—Abyssinia is in a fine state of Blair-ism just now. Everything there seems to be dismal, bloody and hopeless.

—New Orleans thinks she has as good a right as New York to the title of the worst governed city in the country.

—Tomahawk also says financiers are so much interested in geography as to want to know where is the capital of Spain?

—A large mining party headed by a Northumbrian baronet, is going out from England to the new African gold fields.

—The Algerian Arabs make soup of their children and the possessor of the fullest quiver of them has the best stocked larder.

—Prentice thinks papers should boast more of its read matter than of its reading matter. This is very excellent advice for some journals.

—The Liberal papers in Madrid are in a bad way. All of their editors have obtained lucrative government offices, and editors are scarce there.

—There are 60,000 watchmakers in Switzerland, and as some of them are dishonest and prey on the public they might be said to watch and prey.

—Maggie Mitchell is going to Europe to play Juliet at least so rumor says. Rumor knows better than to say she is going there to act the character.

—Wm. Allen Butler, the author we believe of "Nothing to wear" and other poems, has unsaddled Pegassus and is now riding a political hobby.

—The portrait of Washington was placed on the front of the balcony of the town hall of Barvelona, in the place from where the portrait of Isabella the Second had been torn down.

—The Czar has forbidden Poles from wearing mustaches and imperials. What a blessing this ukase will be to the young men who have the desire, but not the ability to raise them.

—Gerritt Smith has recently given $50,000 to the Alfred Academy in Allegheny county, New York; as this is the third time he has been similarly generous his gift amounts to $150,000.

—A romantic Belgian preacher recently, while visiting the tomb of Napoleon, expressed a wish to offer himself up as a sacrifice to the genius of that great man. He then shot himself.

—Lotta is again in Baltimore probably engaged to that wealthy young Baltimore merchant who seems to make a practice of becoming engaged to all unmarried actresses who visit that city.

—California has recently had a flock of ants ten miles wide, at least the flock was that wide, the dimensions of the ants were not ascertained, but they were all carpet-baggers as they were going South.

—At school at Walsend, near Newcastle, England, the master asked a class of boys the meaning of the word "appetite," when, after a short pause, one little boy said: "I know, sir! when I'm eatin' I'm 'appy, and when I'm done I'm tight."

—A Rev. Mr. Smith, at the recent Chicago Ministerial Union, denounced theatres as "an abominable stench in the eyes of moral people." His ideas on eyes and stench have become curiously connected.

—Edwin Booth and Fanny Janauscheck played together in Macbeth in Boston Theatre the other night, and the Boston papers seem to think it was a dramative combination of unequaled excellence.

—There are sixty-six churches in Louisville; of these are, Methodist sixteen, Roman Catholic eleven, Episcopalian ten and Presbyterian nine. The other twenty are divided up among six denominations.

—The Salt Lake City theatre is firm in its refusal to take a wheel-barrow load of adobes in payment for a reserved seat. The price is two bushels of potatoes, and two bushels of potatoes must be paid.

—Grant seems to have or have had various professions and trades—a tanner, a leather dealer, some say a butcher, a soldier, a peace maker, at present a cabinet maker, and soon to be an upholster, filling the Presidential chair.

—A crazy individual from Winchendon, professing a great regard for Butler, called at a house in Greenville, Conn., Wednesday evening, and went into a bed-room, informing the occupants that he intended to sleep there that night. On their objecting, he cleared the house with a boot-jack.

—A new rural and family paper is about to be started in New York by S. M. Pettingill & Co., a firm so long and well known to newspaper men. I. K. Marvel is to be the general editor, Mrs. H. B. Stowe is to be a contributor to every number. Under such auspices no one can well doubt its success.

—An Irishman in New York was required to produce his certificate of citizenship. He retired in anger, and after a time re-appeared bearing upon his back a house door on which was pasted, all too securely, the required paper. This he set down before the astonished judges with the remark, "An' will that plaze yer?"

—The Czar of Russia seems to have a capacity for the refinement of cruelty, unknown to less august mortals, and seems at the same time to be devoid of all chivalry, as he wreaks his vengeance with even more recklessness on the women than on the men of unhappy Poland. His latest and most outrageous attack on the beautiful daughters of that afflicted land is the prohibition in Poland of all journals containing the Paris fasions.

—Ostriches are more valuable than geese, as the feathers of one are said to be worth $100 a year. In Australia they have tried the experiment of fencing in 10,000 acres of ground and keeping a flock of these strange and valuable birds. It might be worth the trouble for some of our rural neighbors to try the experiment, while the birds, besides being profitable, might from their appetite for a metallic diet, solve the vexed question of what is to be done with old oyster cans by persons who are unjustly deprived of back alleys into which to throw them.

YANKEE MAYOR IN JAPAN.—A Yokohoma, Japan, paper says that on July 25th, 1868, there was an election there of municipal officers, viz: A municipal council, consisting of three of the leading merchants generally, and, a municipal director, an officer who is a kind of half mayor and street inspector. He is elected every year by all the registered citizens of the treaty powers. He receives a salary of $3,500 a year, in gold, and a house free, and is second in authority to the Governor of Kanagawa, who is generally a Daimio of considerable rank. The choice on the date above mentioned fell upon a Boston man, Edward Sewall Benson, son of the late Col. John Benson, a merchant of this city. Mayor Benson has been for several years past a resident in China and Japan. His election was the cause of a considerable rejoicing among the American population of Yokohomo, as it is the first time such a result has been accomplished, and to the Americans, representing but a small portion of the population, it was as cheering as it was unexpected.

OLD FIELD MARSHAL Mazzuchelli, the oldest soldier in the Austrian army, died recently at the age of ninety-four. It was he who, when a Captain, was sent to General Bonaparte, at the siege of Mantua in 1797, to negotiate with him in Wernser's name about the capitulation of the fortress. Bonaparte received him with these words: "Have you seen at last, that it is sheer madness for you to hold out any longer?" "Yes," replied Mazzuchelli, "but we do not think it disgraceful to capitulate now; we have eaten the last mouse and rat in the city." Bonaparte was silent for a moment. He then turned abruptly to the Captain, and said in a very gentle voice, "Captain Mazzuchelli, tell your commander-in-chief that he is one of the bravest men I have ever met."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 9, 1868.

The general markets continue dull, and what makes it still worse, is the fact that now is the very time when business should be brisk. Navigation has been resumed, the political excitement has pretty well subsided, and the crops are moving, but for all this, there seems to be a general stagnation. The great decline in Grain and Flour, during the past two months, seems to have completely demoralized all of our leading markets, and until confidence is more fully restored and money works somewhat easier, no material improvement can reasonably be expected.

APPLES—Quiet and unchanged at $2 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is dull but unchanged at 5c per pound.

CRANBERRIES—Western still quoted at $15 to $16. Prime Eastern Cultivated scarce and firm at $21 to $22.

CHESTNUTS—In limited supply and higher, with sales reported at $6,50 to $7 per bushel.

CIDER—Is unchanged at $6 to $8, according to quality and size of barrel.

BUTTER—Continues dull though unchanged at 35 to 38c, for prime to choice Roll.

EGGS—Unchanged at 34 to 35c.

BEANS—Prime small white (new crop) quoted at $3,75 to $4 per bushel.

CHEESE—Is in fair demand, and unchanged.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and lower. Peaches may be quoted at 12 cents for quarters, and 14c for prime halves. Apples 9 to 10 cents.

HAY—Is dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demannd; we now quote baled at 23 to $25.

GRAIN—The grain market, as has been the case for some time past, is completely demoralized. Wheat is dull and nominal at $1,80 to $1,85 for Winter. Oats dull, with sales on wharf and track at 63 to 64c. Corn is very dull; prime old Shelled may be quoted at $1,12; mixed do at $1,08, and prime Ear at $1,14 to $1,15. New Corn is a perfect drug, and can hardly be sold at any price. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,35 to $1,40. Barley is very dull and irregular, and in, the absence of sales, we quote Spring at $1,80 to $1,90, and Fall at $1,95 to $2.

POTATOES—Exceedingly dull under the influence of large receipts; we now quote Peach Blows, in bulk, by the car load, at 70 to 75c per bushel.

PROVISIONS—Small sales of Shoulders at 13¾. Lard is still quoted at 18c, and Mess Pork, $31.

SEEDS—Dull and prices are nominally unchanged.

ONIONS—Continue very dull but unchanged at $4 to $4,50 per bbl.

FEATHERS—Sales to the trade at 75 for Live Geese Feathers, and 80 to 85 for small lots in store.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12c.

FLOUR—The Flour market continues quiet and rather dull, though prices have undergone no material change for some days. Spring Wheat brands range from $7,50 to $8, fer good to choice. Rye Flour, $8 to $8,25. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in barrels, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per barrel; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

PEA NUTS—We can report regular sales at $2 to $2,25 per bushel, as to quality.

WHISKY—The market is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for both Raw and Rectified.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary at this point last evening with four feet eight inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The Allegheny was reported rising at Oil City yesterday afternoon, with forty inches at that point, and this will cause a rise of a foot, and, perhaps, more here. There has evidently been considerable rain at the headwaters of the Allegheny—much more than we had here. The weather yesterday was cloudy and sultry, with occasional light showers.

The Bellevernon, from St. Louis, and Julia No. 2, from Zanesville, are the only arrivals we have to report. The Wild Duck and Glasgow were due last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

As will be noticed by card, the Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh, has entered the Pittsburgh and Evansville packet trade, leaving here every other Thursday. Our merchants and manufacturers should do all in their power to sustain Captain Darragh in this trade, as we believe it will be the means of bringing a large number of orders here, which heretofore have been sent to Cincinnati and Louisville. As it is, a large amount of Pittsburgh manufactures are shipped to Evansville, but with a regular packet in the trade, there is no reason why the business between here and there should not be doubled, or even trebled. The Bell will leave on her first trip on Thursday at 4 p. m.

The Camelia cleared for Nashville last evening with a fair trip. She will doubtless fill up below.

The Armenia, Capt. A. C. McCallum, Sr., is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out.

We have quite a number of boats for New Orleans, as will be seen by the following: Arkansas, Capt. A. H. Shaw; Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney; Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, and Ida Rees, Capt. Stubblefield.

The Julia No. 2, Capt. Coulson, is the regular packet for Zanesville to-day, leaving at 4 p. m.

—The Belle Lee has been chartered by Capt. Leathers to take the place of the Gen. Quitman in the New Orleans and Vicksburg trade.

—A rate of freight between Cairo and New Orleans has been agreed upon by the steamboat associations of St. Louis and Louisville. It is 65c per barrel for flour. Other articles in proportion.

—The Guidon has not been sold. Everything has been agreed upon—price $8,000, &c., but it appears that she is not at the present time to become the property of the Memphis and Arkansas mail packet company.

—It will be remembered that the large New Orleans and St. Louis packet Champion was totally destroyed by fire, at Memphis, during the war. A party of wreckers are at work extricating her machinery from the river.

—Richard T. Lamb, a well known pilot, died at the Marine Hospital at New Albany on Monday, from injuries received by a fall several weeks ago. He was afflicted with vertigo, and in one of those spells, fell down the stairs at the Crystal Palace in Louisville.

—The St. Louis Dispatch says: Several parties of from four to six are forming themselves into companies for the purpose of bidding at the sale of the Great Republic, which takes place very soon. We know of one who will bid seventy-five thousand dollars for her. Her cost is reported at $285,000.

—The following is from the St. Louis Democrat: Is there any need that higher salaries should be paid to men in the employ of steamboats than to those in the employ of a railroad? The conductor's salary might justly be made the measure of a steamboat captain's salary. The engineer's salary on a locomotive might justly be made the basis of the steamboat engineer's salary, and so on. Why need the commerce of the rivers be taxed to pay three times the salaries that the commerce of the railroad pays? Is it answered that steamboat captains will not hire themselves at $100 a month? We reply, then let them do something else—there are plenty who will take their places for that money. A railroad conductor does well who receives $100 per month, and he is not boarded and lodged at the company's expense, either.

NATURALIZATION.

If the system of Naturalization existing in this country had been devised for the purpose of encouraging frauds upon the elective franchise, to the fullest practicable extent, and the crimes of forgery, counterfeiting and perjury which are essential to the perpetration of such frauds, we do not see how it could have been made more certainly to accomplish that end. A system which is liable to so many and flagrant abuses ought not to be endured. Searching revision and amendment are demanded, and must and will be obtained.

Prior to the late State election we stated plainly that our first choice would be to abolish the present system entirely, conferring the right to vote upon each adult, upon residence of one full year in the district, and, if an alien, upon taking, in some public and prescribed form, an oath of allegiance to the United States. We are still of that mind, and hence desire to submit some considerations which move us in that direction.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania ordains that no "white male freeman" shall vote unless he shall have paid a state or county tax within the two years immediately preceding the election at which he demands the right of suffrage. The logic of this provision, so far as there is any in it, implies that political rights depend upon the possession of property. When the Democratic leaders framed the Constitution—for they did that job—that was an idea which they not only cherished, but openly avowed, by putting it plainly into the organic law as it now appears. They privately hold to the idea now just as tenaciously as at any former period, though they think it prudent not to say so.

This prerequisite of paying taxes, as the case now stands, practically avails nothing. If a man otherwise qualified to vote, has no money to pay his taxes with, or, having money, prefers to spend it for whisky, his taxes are paid for him by one or other of the political parties. Besides, the total amount brought into the Treasury, by the enforcement of this rule, is so inconsiderable as not to compensate for the trouble and vexation it occasions.

No thoughtful person will seriously contend that the possession or acquisition of property is a test either of intellectual ability or of loyalty to the government. Let us glance at each of these points.

Some of the most famous philosophers, orators, poets, statesmen and soldiers, have lived and died in poverty. Some of the richest men in the tide of time have been destitute of ideas to fit them for any political station whatever. Often two boys start into manhood together. One becomes absorbed in getting ideas; the other in amassing dollars. Both succeed, and to their utmost satisfaction. The man of ideas obtains few dollars, and the man of dollars few ideas. This is an extreme case.

Nor will it be pretended, by men who have either studied history or observed the current of recent events, that poor men are less loyal than rich ones. Who concocted the rebellion in the Southern States? Not the men who worked at daily toil for a livelihood, and paid no taxes because they had nothing to tax but their labor, and nothing to pay taxes with, unless they took bread out of the mouths of their wives and little ones. The conspirators were men of learning and wealth, of high social and ecclesiastical standing—the master-spirits of the ten States. At the North the same classes were in league with them, mingled sympathies with them all through the war, and are aiding and abetting them now. Who put down the Rebellion? Doubtless many men of wealth co-operated both by money and personal services. Not a few of them, to their honor it is resorded, went into the ranks as common soldiers. But the bulk of the men whose united efforts crushed the rebels, were men either in poverty or only in comfortable circumstances. STANTON, GRANT, SHERMAN, SHERIDAN, THOMAS, and ninety-nine out of every hundred of the men who served under them, were not rich.

The burdens of government are of two sorts. 1. Personal service in the field or on deck in its defence. 2. Money contributions toward necessary expenses. The man who has to peril his life has a manyfold better claim to vote than the man who simply pays a dollar. It is safe to say that all on whom either of these burdens are laid have a right to vote. We by no means consent to the rule that no others have.

Nor can it escape attention that while a citizen cannot vote unless he has paid a state or county tax within two years, he may be elected and serve as Governor, Senator, Representative, Judge, Sheriff, or Prothonotary, whether he has ever paid a tax or not. This is an anomaly which shows that tax-paying as a condition of voting is the remnant of a custom which is fading out.

It is part of our radicalism that absolute or inalienable political rights are not predicable upon race, color, sex or condition, but only upon human nature. For many years we have so held, and shall continue so to hold until the end. Wherever this conception of right leads, there we follow, though we are in no hurry to make direct issues before the period properly allowed to discussion shall be exhausted, so that the voters may be enabled to act understandingly, holding passions and prejudices in abeyance.

It has come to pass that all aliens on the Democratic side vote on false natnralization certificates, unless restrained by a sense of personal honor. Incontestible facts show that tens of thousands of them have no sense of honor in the matter, but vote altogether indifferent as to how many crimes are committed before their votes actually get into the boxes. We do not say there are no aliens on the Republican side equally reckless. What we affirm is, that the great majority of such aliens are on the Democratic side. Nor do we mean to say or insinuate that aliens have any less regard for right and justice than men who are native born. The most detestable of the Democrats are not the ignorant and passionate aliens who vote illegally by means of perjury, or forgery and counterfeiting; but the sleek, courtly and sanctimonious native-born ones who consolidate these crimes into a regular system, take part in it themselves, bribe others to engage therein, and then go back either to their eminent social circles or their fashionable churches, hypocritically thanking God that they are not as other men.

In Minnesota and other western States aliens are allowed to vote upon declaring their intentions to become citizens. What we propose is, to substitute a probation of one year for this probation of two years, and then let all adults vote upon a year's residence, no alien to vote without first making oath that he bears true allegiance to the country. We are not clear, but this condition is nugatory, for our government has entered into a number of treaties, and is negotiating more, containing the special and novel stipulation that citizenship may be put on or off, at the pleasure of each individual, the same as a garment. So long as this nation stands forth as the champion of this demand, it ought to conform its internal polity thereto, if not from conviction, then from a sentiment of consistency and fairness.

By accepting the innovation we propose the crimes which are now undermining all sense of rectitude in the Democratic party would be avoided; the distinction between citizens and aliens would be nearly obliterated; and the existing discrepancy between parties would be adjusted, because the aliens who side with the Republicans would then vote as generally as those now do who side with the Democrats.

To this conclusion the people of the United States are drifting—some consciously, others unconsciously, all certainly, and at it they will ultimately arrive. Some space will or may elapse first; and this intermediary or transitional period must be bridged over, by supplementing or modifying the naturalization laws. With that end in view, we propose, within a few days, to offer some suggestions as to what the Legislature of Pennsylvania ought to do in this regard, at its next session, and what Congress ought to do as soon after it comes together as may be.

A COURT-MARTIAL MERITED.

Gen. ROUSSEAU finds a defender in the New Orleans Republican, which now comes to eulogize his "prompt disavowal of any partizan bias," and to give prominence to his confiding reliance upon the "promises" and "pledges from the Democratic clubs for the preservation of order." The same journal, but a few days before, reports the speech of the same Gen. ROUSSEAU, delivered to the Democratic club of the "Innocents." First complimenting this thoroughly rebel organization, as composed of and officered by "intelligent, respectable and worthy gentlemen," this model General, who "disavows partizan bias," proceeded to speak of "the array of races in the coming contest. Nature had destined this continent to be ruled by white men, and the whites should always rule." That's enough for the non-partizan General ROSSEAU, and, for that matter too, it is enough for all friends of the Union, except his champions of the New Orleans Republican. Not only the fact but the substance of our contemporary's intervention having been telegraphed all over the North, we have the right and the duty to comment thereon. The words quoted from ROUSSEAU himself, used at that hour and to that audience, abundantly establish his entire unfitness for a trust which a SHERIDAN, a THOMAS or a SCHOFIELD, or a REYNOLDS would have executed so differently Neither of these men, nor any other true soldier, loyal to his flag, faithfully obedient to the laws, and rightly recognizing the one, straight, unbending line of duty, would have been found making fine speeches to those "Innocents," complimenting them as "true and honest men." No, with the fact patent to all the world that these same "Innocents" had matured a deliberate plot to inaugurate, on the election day, an anarchy which should obey no law but that laid down by BLAIR, to trample all laws under their feet, not only PHIL. SHERIDAN, but hundreds of other gallant soldiers who worthily wear the Union blue would have posted their soldiers, if but a handfull—would have planted their guns, if but one six pounder—in the best chosen positions, notifying whomsoever it might concern, that so far as bayonet or bullet could reach, and, within that scope at least, the second rebellion could only have completed its work over their bodies dead but not living.

The loyal people want no more ROUSSEAUS to execute their laws. We pay these men to do our fighting when lawfully necessary, and expect them to earn their money. We have politicians enough to make all the needful fine speeches. The military arm needs no gifts of the tongue. Unfortunately, it was the tongue and not the arm which displayed the Federal blue at New Orleans last Tuesday. ROUSSEAU'S politics are stronger than his sense of soldierly duty. He is good Democrat enough to hate the reconstruction laws, and his human nature could not possibly give these laws more than a half-hearted support. And so the new rebellion laughed at him, and rode roughshod over Republican Freedom. One hour of PHIL. SHERIDAN is worth a lifetime of such men. The New Orleans Republican, as well as New Orleans rebels, may be assured that a loyal people takes no excuse offered from any quarter for the criminal inefficiency which thus supplemented a flagrant treason.

CONTROLLING THE BLACKS.

The Louisville Courier regards the fact as established that the Southern negro vote "can and will be controlled and influenced by the whites," but will, nevertheless, continue its opposition to negro suffrage, upon the ground that American liberty is only safe in the hands of the white race. The Courier's ideas of this liberty were very faithfully illustrated in several of the Gulf States at last week's election. But the day is not many years distant when journals like the Courier will recognize negro support at the South to be as essential to the Democracy as the Irish vote is already at the North.

Intelligent Southerners of all parties understand that this whole question of the suffrage is completely within their own control, for revision and readjustment by the people of each State for themselves, upon the single preliminary condition that all action to be taken thereupon shall be in the legal and orderly form. Georgia, or Louisiana, may proceed to-morrow to amend her Constitution in that regard, enlarging or restricting the right of suffrage precisely as may be most agreeable to the majority of her people, their judgment thereupon being taken in a fair, orderly, unintimidated vote. Upon such an issue, every voter, having at present a legal title to the suffrage, will have the right to vote, and will be protected in its freest exercise. Louisiana and her sister rebel States have had their last fling, in the way of one-sided elections, and must acquiesce in the more Republican fashion thereof which governs in Ohio or Pennsylvania. This also is well understood by all Southern men. They see that the vote of last Tuesday means at least so much, if nothing more. Of course, then, if Georgia desires to call a new Convention to amend her Constitution, all her voters, of whatsoever race, will freely take part in ordering its assemblage, in choosing its members and in pronouncing upon the result of their labors when duly submitted for their approval. Any State action whatever, thus had in an orderly and constitutional manner, will, ex necessitate, be acceptable to the other people of the Union.

The correctness of the opinion held by the Courier and other leading Southern journals may thus be easily, lawfully and speedily tested. If the whites "can and will control the negro vote," as asserted by these journals, what hinders an immediate trial of the experiment? The suffrage question, being regarded as embodying the essential germ of a hateful "negro equality," does certainly invite their attention most pressingly. They have the clear right to re-establish the restriction of race upon that question, if they can accomplish it by any of the ordinary and lawful methods. Doubtless, since they do not overstate their influence over the blacks, they can give its potency a splendid illustration by securing the negro indorsement for the desired limitation. If the negroes shall consent, no objections by others, outside of their States, need to be noticed. Suppose the Courier and its friends proceed to make the trial. If that be orderly and lawful in its method, we pledge to them, not only the absolute non-intervention of the North, or of the Federal Government, but even a hearty concurrence in whatever result shall thus be attained. Let us see how much that boasted "control" amounts to, when exemplified upon the leading question of Southern politics. Go right in, gentlemen; we are merely spectators, guaranteeing to both sides fair play!

VALUABLE HELPS.

Tourists to the Old World meet with many mishaps, because of the lack of reliable information, before they enter upon their journey, which might have been avoided by proper forethought. The successful traveler now-a-days carefully marks out his route of travel, and provides for every contingency that may arise. By this means many unpleasent things in foreign lands are overcome, and the trip is rendered delightful and pleasant throughout. Few travelers consider beforehand, as they should, the fact that the customs and habits of the countries they are to pass through are entirely different from their own. The day has past when persons need lack proper information, sufficient at least to give them a general knowledge of the places and people they desire to visit.

Until within a few years past, travelers were wholly dependent upon the cumbrous Guide books, published in Great Britain, and on the Continent. These so-called helps, were generally burdened with useless matter, and the use of a great number of them was required to pass over a short route of travel; troublesome to transport from point to point, and rarely up to the progressive steps of the time in hand. American travelers felt the need of better helps, and, the HARPER BROTHERS, ever wide awake to the wants of the day, took measures several years since to remedy this evil. Mr. W. PEMBROKE FETRIDGE, a gentleman eminently qualified, at the suggestion of the Messrs, HARPERS, visited the leading cities of Europe for the purpose of gathering materials for a Guide Book, adapted to the wants of American travelers. After remaining a year abroad making notes and ascertaining by practical experience the items of every expense, besides visiting every place calculated to interest an American, HARPER'S HAND-BOOK FOR TRAVELERS IN EUROPE was published after his return to this country. Every year since then, revised editions have been published, during which time the East has been embraced within its scope, and it is now admitted to be perfect in design and execution. Mr. FETRIDGE visits Europe every year, acquiring additional information, and noting the progress of events and changes of Continental topography. Its reliability and truthfulness are not questioned in foreign countries, and a cursory examination is sufficient to demonstrate its merits. The railroad map, corrected up to 1868, is a valuable appendage. The work is a large 12 mo. Leather Pocket-Book Form, portable and printed on beautiful paper.

Recently this great publishing house issued a work entitled "HARPER'S PHRASE BOOK; or Hand-Book of Travel Talk for Travelers and Schools." Being a Guide to conversations in English, French, German and Italian, on a new and improved method. With concise and explicit rules for the pronunciation of the different languages. With this work, and "HARPER'S HAND-BOOK FOR TRAVELERS," tourists can go abroad fearlessly, and enjoy a degree of comfort and pleasure hitherto unknown by American travelers to foreign countries. The numerous visitors from this section of the country, who go abroad for pleasure or for business, will do well to secure these valuable helps. Miner, close by our office, doubtless, can supply both volumes.

THE SOCIAL CONDITION OF TEXAS.

A recent report from General REYNOLDS, in command of that District, conveys a clear idea of the utterly disjointed and lawless condition of society in this ultra rebel State. He says:

"The greatest difficulty I labor under, as I have often before represented, is in securing the freed people justice in cases of a criminal nature. I have used every means I could employ to educate and force the civil authorities up to doing something near their duty, but the sentiment of the entire people is so demoralized, and they are so specially averse to recognizing the equality of the negro before the law, that I cannot report any very great amount of progress in that direction. While the civil authorities and the citizens so signally fail in punishing those of the white race who commit offenses upon the freed people, they are ever ready and in fact over-zealous in administering the law to its fullest extent when the accused is of the freed race. Punishment generally follows the offense swiftly and surely. Offenses which, when committed by the whites, are daily passed by without notice, become crimes of greater or less magnitude when committed by them.

"Of the many hundreds of freed people killed since the close of the war, I know of no instance where punishment has followed the perpetration of the crime when the author was of the white race. There is in fact no punishment for the perpetration of homicides when the guilty party is of the white race. It does not matter whether the victim is white or black, by some hook or crook the law is evaded and the guilty party goes unpunished.

"The demoralized condition of the sentiment of the whole people; their total disregard for law and order; their intolerance of opinion differing from their own, and the light value they place upon human life, has so often been brought to your notice by myself and predecessors, that to say more upon a subject that has already become so notorious throughout the length and breadth of the land seems like idle repetition."

ELECTION DAY in New York afforded a fine opportunity for burglars to ply their avocation. Two police officers were passing down Broadway, late at night, when they heard moans and cries of a frightful nature proceeding from the premises of the Manufacturers' and Merchants' Bank. They instantly battered in the doors of the place and entered. Here they were met by a young lady who informed them in a nervous manner and with tears, that somebody had "been killing her father," and that "he was lying in the bank." The officers immediately entered the banking house, and found Mr. James Ferguson, the janitor of the building, lying in one of the corridors, in a pool of blood, with three frightful gashes in his head, which had rendered him insensible. While one of the officers, in company with Miss Ferguson, attended the wounded man, the other searched for the supposed assassins, and eventually, near the rear of the bank, discovered a perfect "kit" of implements that only the most desperate scoundrels could employ in nefarious schemes. There were drills, wedges, "bits" in dozens, braces, handcuffs, sledge-hammers, a large Bowie knife, an extra size safe "jimmy," 200 feet of webbing, a flask of powder, picklocks, two sets of false whiskers and mustaches, four hats, and other articles that only expert thieves know how to manipulate, and all were new. Glancing quickly at this extensive lot of instruments, the officers hurriedly examined the back windows, when, to their great annoyance, they discovered another coil of webbing, extending to the ground beneath, that assured them the attempted murderers and thieves had escaped while they were forcing an entrance into the front of the building. The assumption regarding the assault is that when the janitor was going his early rounds the unknown burglars assaulted him with intent to kill, but not using their "billy" with sufficient skill, he, in his moments of agony, realized the attempt and cried for assistance, and being heard by his daughter, she gave the alarm.

THE largest upper leather tannery in America is stated to be situated at Chicago. The works, on the north side of the Chicago River, occupy nearly five acres, including docks. Their main building is 241 by 80 feet, and three story high, with a two-storied superstructure 75 by 35 feet. A steam elevator in the centre of the building is used for hoisting purposes. The working force of the establishment is one hundred hands, and its producing capacity one thousand hides per week.

The Pacific Railroad in Winter.

Nature and the seasons seem to favor the Pacific Railroad. The working season has been so far prolonged that it is estimated that by the end of the current month there will not be over three hundred miles of the Trough Line remaining incomplete; and of that distance a good part of the grading will be done. The great question of fuel seems also to be satisfactorily settled. Rich beds of coal have been discovered at the headwaters of the Humboldt River, and on the slopes of the Wasatch Mountains where the Eastern and Western Links of the Road unite. Next summer will undoubedly witness the binding of the Atlantic and Pacific waters by a continuous line of Railroad 3,300 miles in length.

By the advertisement of the Financial Agents of the Central Pacific Railroad Company in another column, it appears that great success has attended their negotiations on the First Mortgage Bonds, issued under the authority of Congress. The important aid granted by the nation, together with excellent credit, enables this Company to push on the work with undimished vigor. Fifteen thousand men and three thousand teams are engaged on the line. Three hundred miles of iron have been laid since the 20th of June last; or at an average rate of two and one half miles per working day. From Salt Lake to the Pacific Ocean the line rises only once (in crossing the Sierra Nevada Range,) to the altitude of heavy snows. Over this stretch of about thirty miles, substantial sheds have been built which will enable the line to be worked at all seasons, in spite of drifting snows. The business on the Pacific end of the line is already greater than the present facilities will accommodate.

IN CORNING, N. Y., Monday afternoon last, a man entered the George Washington Bank, when the streets of the village were alive with people, and found a boy in charge. He said he was a United States Marshal, and was about to take possession of the Bank for issuing counterfeit notes. He took a pair of handcuffs from his pocket and put them upon the wrists of the boy, who was nearly paralyzed by fear. After the shackles had been put on, the boy began to scream for Mr. Walker, who has a store next door to the bank. The rogue became alarmed, told the boy to be quiet, took the irons from his wrists and told him to go with him and find Mr. Patterson, cashier of the bank. The boy locked the door of the bank and went with the stranger to the depot. The fellow told him to look about for Mr. Patterson, and when he found him the man was missing. It was a singular proceeding. Nothing was taken from the bank, and no attempt was made beyond what is stated. It is supposed that the thief lost his conrage after taking the first step, and got out the best way he could.

THE GREAT MEDICAL MISTAKE

Of former days was an utter neglect of sanitary precautions. No efficient means were adopted for the prevention of sickness. Sewerage was unknown in cities; drainage was rarely attempted in the country. Heaps of offal were left to rot in the public streets, and domestic cleanliness, the great antidote to febrile diseases, was sadly neglected. It is not so now. Wise laws, philanthropic institutions, and a vigilant sanitary police, have, to a great extent, remedied the evil. Nor is this all. PREVENTIVE MEDICATION has helped materially to lessen the rates of mortality It is not too much to say that TENS OF THOUSANDS escape sickness in unhealthy seasons in consequence of having INVIGORATED THEIR SYSTEMS IN ADVANCE by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This pure and powerful vegetable tonic and alterative comprises the extracts and essences of a variety of roots and herbs, renowned for their strengthening, soothing, vitalizing and purifying properties. These medicinal agents are incorporated with a spirit absolutely free from the acrid poison which defiles, more or less, all the liquors of commerce, and their effect is diffused through the whole frame by this active, yet harmless stimulant. The result is such a condition of the system as renders it all but impervious to the exterior causes of disease, such as damp fog, sudden alternations of temperature, &c. Strength, and the perfect regularity of all the functions of the body, are the best safe-guards against atmospheric poison and the effects of unwholesome water and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the best strengthening and regulating medicine at present known. For dyspepsia and billiousness they are a SPECIFIC ABSOLUTE.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the ungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no failing into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

How Frank Blair Heard the News.

Frank P. Blair, the defeated Vice-Presidential candidate of the Democracy, arrived in Chicago at an early hour Wednesday morning, and stopped at the Tremont House. Scarcely a member of his party called upon him, the terrible rout they had experienced no doubt deterring them from confronting their nominee. After reading the morning papers, Frank remarked that he had been beaten like h—l, and that was the only way to be beaten. Some of his Republican friends casually mentioned "Salt River;" to which Frank replied, that Salt River was not large enough; he was "going to Salt Lake." He left in that direction, via the Union Pacific Railroad, at two o'clock P. M., and has not been heard of since. It is to be hoped he may arrive safe, espouse the cause of Brigham Young, and perhaps he may succeed to a position among the Mormons.

HORATIO SEYMOUR made his first speech in Rochester. That city replied by rolling up its first Republican majority for many years. He made his second speech in Buffalo, and that city gave its first Republican majority for ten years. He next spoke in Erie, which added three hundred to its October majority. He then addressed himself to Cleveland, which plumped up an extra thousand upon its October return; then to Chicago, which bounded from one thousand Democratic majority in April to five thousand Republican majority in November. And so on to Indianapolis, Harrisburg, and Great Bend, all of which acknowledged the honor of Mr. Seymour's call by adding hundreds of Republican votes to their October majorities.

A BRIGHT little boy was asked by a lady if he studied hard at school. He replied that he did not hurt himself much at it. "Oh," said the lady, "you must study hard or you will never be President of the United States." "Yes, ma'ma" he replied; "but I don't expect to be; I am a Democrat."

EXCELLENT SECURITY.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE

THIRTY YEAR, SIX PER CENT

GOLD BONDS

OF THE

Central Pacific Railroad Co.,

These Bonds are the duly authorized and accredited obligations of one of the most responsible Corporations of the American Continent, and are secured by an absolute first lien upon the valuable grants, franchises, railroad equipment, business, etc., of the best portion of the extending eastwardly from the navigable waters of the Pacific Coast to the lines now rapidly building from the Eastern States.

Great National Pacific Railroad Line,

They bear Six per cent. interest per annum in gold, AND BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE EXPRESSLY MADE "PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN."

The semi-annual Coupons are payable, July 1st and January 1st in New York City.

The purchaser is charged the accrued interest from the date of the last paid Coupon, at the CURRENCY RATE ONLY.

This issue of Bonds constitutes one of the LARGEST AND MOST POPULAR CORPORATE LOANS of the country, and therefore will be constantly dealt in.

The greater portion of the loan is now in the hands of steady investors; and it is probable that before many months, when the Road is completed and the Loan closed, THE BONDS WILL BE EAGERLY SOUGHT FOR AT THE HIGHEST RATES.

They are issued ONLY AS THE WORK PROGRESSES, and to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds granted by the Government to the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Nearly FIVE HUNDRED MILES of the road are now built, and the grading is well advanced on two hundred and fifty miles additional.

The THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT will be completed by the middle of next year, when the Overland travel will be very large.

The local business alone, upon the completed portion, is so heavy, and so advantageous, that the gross earnings average MORE THAN A QUARTER OF A MILLION IN GOLD PER MONTH, of which 35 per cent. only is required for operating expenses.

The net profit upon the Company's business on the completed portion, is about double the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed thereupon, on, and will yield a SURPLUS OF NEARLY A MILLION IN GOLD after expenses and interest are paid—even if the through connection were not made.

The best lands, the richest mines, together with the largest settlement and nearest markets, lie along this portion of the Pacific Railroad, and the FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS thereon will be proportionably great.

From these considerations it is submitted that the secured by a First Mortgage upon so productive a property are among the most promising and reliable securities now offered. No better Bonds can be made.

A portion of the remainer of this Loan is now offered to investors.

At 103 Per Cent. and Accrued Interest, in Currency,

The Bonds are of $1,000 each.

☞ The Company reserve the right to advance the price at any time; but all orders actually in transitu at the time of any such advance will be filled at present price. At this time they pay more than 8 per cent. upon the investment, and have, from National and State laws, guarantees peculiar to themselves.

We receive all classes of Government Bonds at their full market rates, in exchange for the Central Pacific Railroad Bonds, thus enabling the holders to realise from 5 TO 10 PER CENT. PROFIT, and keep the principal of their investment equally secure.

Orders and inquiries will receive prompt attention. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, etc., giving a full account of the Organization, Progress, Business and Prospects of the Enterprise furnished on application. Bonds sent by return Express at our cost.

Subscriptions received by Banks and Bankers, Agents for the Loan, throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, and by PROPOSAL.

The Commissioners appointed by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose of locating and building a

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE,

for the Northern District of Pennsylvania, having selected a site on the Susquehanna river in the vicinity of Danville, Montour county, Pennsylvania, will receive proposals until,

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 24th, 1868.

at noon, for the erection and construction of a Hospital with all its appurtenances upon said site in accordance with all the plans and specifications of John McArthur, Junior, Architect, adopted by them and approved by the Governor.

The plans and specifications can be examined at the office of the Architect, No. 205 SOUTH SIXTH STREET, Philadelphia, every day, (except Sunday,) between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M., until the time above mentioned for receiving bids.

Parties making Proposals, must furnish sureties, whose responsibility to the amount of $10,000 shall be certified to before a Justice of the Peace, that they will, in case their bill is accepted enter into a contract, within ten days from the time of opening the bids, with satisfactory security to the amount of $25,000 that the same will be fulfilled in a complete and satisfactory manner.

Proposals to be considered must be in accordance with the printed form adopted by the Commissioners, which can be obtained from either of the Commissioners, the Superintendent of the Hospital or at the office of the Architect.

All bidders desiring information of the site are referred to Dr. S. S. Schultz, Superintendent of the Hospital, at Danville.

Proposals must be marked as such and sent to Isaac X. Grier, Esq., Danville, Pennsylvania, in whose office the bids will be opened in presence of such bidders as may be present on the evening of Tuesday, November 24, 1868.

The Commissioners reserve the right at their discretion to reject any or all bids not deemed to the interest of the Commonwealth or otherwise satisfactory to them.

JOSEPH A. REED,
TRAILL GREEN, } Commissioners.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 9, 1868.

The supposed reissue of greenbacks by the treasury department has been looked upon by speculators, and the community at large as a matter of fact, and dispositions have been made accordingly. It is to be regretted that such a step should be taken by the department subjecting the whole community to immense losses. Our large grain and cotton surplus would have brought us a point nearer to specie payments' but now with the prospect of seeing probably forty-four millions of currency issued in sums that may suit the Secretary of the Treasury or his friends, without knowing when, and how much at a time, may be paid out, must necessarily keep wide fluctuations in the value of our paper issues. This amount of currency is about 6¾ per cent. of the entire issue of paper afloat by government and national banks, but in the manner it may be used it will have three times the power of disturbing the money market, and more so the value of our great staple produce which is to a considerable extent in the hands of speculators, and therefore will not benefit the producer, but the speculator. No estimate can be made of the mischief this may do, but certain it is, it will add vastly to the already enriched class of retired money lenders or holders of securities, whilst ordinary business pursuits must prove unprofitable.

Gold opened weak at 134⅜ to 134½, and fluctuated from 134⅜ to 134¾, being alternatively strong and heavy; it seems, however that this rise is only temporary, and with a firmer money market and the realizations of the bull cliques, the premium must go back and touch even a lower point than it did on Friday.

Bonds were dull early in the day, but a fair investment demand sprung up, under the delusion that new 1865s were quoted at 106½ to 106¾, which were the quotations for old 1865s, whilst Consols commanded 109¾, and are firmly held.

Stocks are all bouyant and higher, except Erie, which declined to 38⅞; this stock stood well during entire panic of last week, and its investment in the Pike's Opera House seems to justify the belief that Erie will command from 60 to 70 before long; it has all the elements of a prosperous road; all that is required is good management, from the President down to the last flag man. Fort Wayne, Cleveland, New York Central, Rock Island and the Old Southern shares and Reading are all strong. To-day most of the dividend paying commence to disburse their last half yearly earnings.

Money easier. Business yet dull.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 9, 1868.

CATTLE.

With an unusually large number of Cattle on sale, the market was exceedingly dull, and had it not been for the presence of some few outside buyers, it would have been much worse. The whole number on sale footed up about 1,350 head, and the great proportion were of an inferior quality. Prime retailing Cattle sold up to last week's prices, while the commoner grades were exceedingly dull, and to effect sales, holders were obliged to make concessions. Probably, one-half, if not three-fourths, of the Cattle on sale, were thin steers and heifers and old cows, suitable for no purpose but feeding, and there are but few stock buyers in market at this season of the year. As will be seen by reference to the report of sales, prime to extra fat Cattle sold at from 7 to 7½, and inferior to medium, all the way from 3½ to 6.

W. Young 18 head two year old heifers and steers, from Lawrence county, at an average of 4c.

A. & W. Wicks 51 head of Butler and Mercer county cows, heifers and steers at 3,50 to 4,50.

McBride & Co. 8 head Washington county steers and heifers at 5.

Rush & Co. 12 head, same kind of stock, from same county, at 4,50 to 5,50.

N. Carr 42 head of Ohio cows and steers at 4 to 6,25.

Jas. McAllister sold 56 head of Western Indiana steers, for Cullen at 6,50 to 7,25; 24 head of mixed stock, for Ross, at 3,50 to 4,50.

Randall, Ream & Hull had 79 head of Perry county, Ohio, heifers and steers; wholesaled at 4 to 5,25.

E. H. Davis 66 head of Belmont county, Ohio, stock at 3,25 to 6,25.

C. K. Warner 20 head Ohio steers, cows and heifers, at an average of 5.

Garwin & Co. 10 head of Butler county stock at 4,25.

Johnathan Davis sold 25 head of Ohio scalwags, for Sloan, at 3 to 5,25.

Glutter & McKenna 33 head of Green county cows, heifers and steers at 3½c to 5c.

Hedges & Taylor sold 117 head of mixed stock at 5 to 6c.

L. & J. Shamberg 90 head of mixed stock at 3,50 to 7.

S. Moses bought, in all, 120 head shipping steers, at an average of 5,25.

Keefer & Zeigler 17 head Chicago steers at 6,20; 49 head mixed Ohio stock at 5 to 6¾.

Marks & Bro. 97 head Penna. and Western stock at 3,50 to 7,50.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 15 head, for Shepard, at 5 to 6; 25 for Davis at 4,50 to 6,25; 6 head, for French, at 6,25.

Myers & Needy 65 head Washington county stock at 5,50 to 7; 40 head Ohio stock at 4,50 to 5,50.

L. Rothchilds & Co. 23 head Chicago stock at 5,25 to 6,75.

Kraus & Haas 52 head of Ohio stock at 4,50 to 6,75.

M. Verner 54 head Illinois stock heifers and steers at 4,50 to 6.

P. Hartman 50 head Green and Washington stock at 3,50 to 6,75.

Greenwald & Kahn 36 head Ohio steers at 6 to 7,75; 40 head, for E. H. Davis, at 4 to 5¾; 10 head for another.

Traurman & Lobman 57 mixed stock at 4 to 6,50.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 100 head, on commission, at 3,25 to 7,25.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

With an unusually light supply on sale, the market was much more active to-day, buyers taking hold with greater alacrity, though, after all, prices, were but little, if any, better, than last week; indeed, it is not to be expected that any material advance could be established on one week's short supply, as there are too many Sheep in this section of country for that. The whole number on sale only reached about 2,500 head, most, if not all of which, were sold at from 75 to $4,50 per head, for inferior to strictly prime fat Sheep.

Stakely & Bro. 280, at $1,00 to $4,50 per head.

C. Beeler 180, at an average of $1,50 per head.

G. McCaslin 300, at 90 to $4,00 per head.

Geo. Clark wholesaled 198 at $1,35 per head.

Adam Eckert 88, at $1 to $3 per head.

J. Walters 100, at $1 to $3 per head.

Simmers wholesaled 122 at $1,35 per head.

M. Flinner 100, at 85 to $3 per head.

P. Sheitemantle 350, at 90 to $2,50 per head.

M. Humes wholesaled 100 at $1,40 per head.

J. Rinn 200, averaging $1,35 per head.

Bannon sold 131, for Allen, at $1,25 per head.

S. Huffman sold 108 at an average of $2,75 per head.

Garwin & Co. sold 130 at an average of $2 per head.

A. & N. Wicks sold 131 at an average of $1,25 per head.

HOGS.

The Hog market was fairly active, the sales in the aggregate being fully up to the usual average, while prices have undergone no material change. We quote in a retail way at from 7½ to 9, for light to prime heavy averages.

C. Beyer retailed 120 at 8 to 9¼.
Sheitemantal wholesaled 30 at 7,85.
Kailmal wholesaled 64 at 8.
Smith wholesaled 18 at 7,30.
J Rothchilds retailed 100 at 8 to 9.
Shepard wholesaled at 7½.
N. Carr retailed 70 at 7¾ to 8⅛.
Ream wholesaled 18 at 7,35.
Emerick & Co. retailed 300 at 8 to 9.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 9, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market was dull and weak to-day, and, compared with Saturday, prices are a shade lower. We can report 1,000 bbls on spot (sold regardless of gravity) at 10¼; 2,000 bbls, buyers option until January 1st, on private terms: and 600 bbls on spot (40 gravity) at 11. Forty to forty-five gravity may be quoted at 10¾, and 46 to 47 at 10¼. There is but comparatively little oil of any kind offering, but as there are but few buyers, the demand is limited.

REFINED.

The improvement on Saturday evening was entirely lost to-day, prices having declined fully half a cent according to the reported sales, and, late in the day, there were reported offers which would indicate a decline of nearly a cent. We can report sales 500 bbls for the last half of November at 27¼; and 1,000 and 500, for same delivery, at 27; This evening it was reported that 26 was the best bid, while there were offers to sell at 26¼. We heard no special cause assigned for the reaction; but we presume that the unfavorable character of the Antwerp advices had something to do with it.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

AN AGRICULTURAL ODE.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

This day, two hundred years ago,
The wild grapes by the river's side,
And tasteless ground-nut, trailing low,
The table of the woods supplied.

Unknown the apple's red and gold,
The blushing tint of peach and pear;
The mirror of the pow-wow told
No tale of orchards ripe and rare.

Wild as the fruits he scorned to till,
These vales the idle Indian trod;
Nor knew the glad, creative skill,
The joy of him who toils with God.

O Painter of the fruits and flowers!
We thank Thee for Thy wise design,
Whereby these human hands of ours
In nature's garden work with Thine.

And thanks that from our daily need
The joy of simple faith is born,
That he who smites the summer weed
May trust Thee for the autumn corn.

Give fools their gold and knaves their power;
Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall;
Who sows a field, or trains a flower,
Or plants a tree is more than all.

For he who blesses most, is blessed;
And God and man shall own his worth
Who toils to leave as a bequest
An added beauty to the earth.

And soon or late, to all that sow,
The time of harvest shall be given;
The flowers shall bloom, the fruit shall grow;
If not on earth, at last in Heaven.

DOMESTIC RECIPES.

By Baron Brisse.—Here are two popular and by no means ruinous dishes, which are still grateful to the palate, if prepared with care. I particularly recommend the following way of serving mackerel, a fish which is unjustly neglected in small households:

Mackerels.—Clean the mackerels in the following way: Draw out the vitals by the gills and the intestines by the navel. Wash them and clean carefully. Open the back and the head, cutting off the extremity of the nose and of the tail; thus prepared lay them on a plate; sprinkle with a little oil; rub with salt and pepper, and let them pickle thus for a half hour, turning from time to time. Lay them now on the gridiron, and when well cooked, serve on a sauce.

When living in a small house the odor of broiling fish may be very inconvenient. You may obviate this trouble by enveloping your fish, while cooking, in buttered paper, and catching the dripping in saucers placed under the two extremities.

Matelotte of Onions.—Trim some large onions, throw them into boiling water and let them boil an instant. Take them out, drain, and place them to touch each other in a saucepan, seasoning with salt, pepper, potherbs and a bit of butter. Then take a brown butter sauce, throw into it a little minced onion, moisten with claret wine, let the sauce combine over the fire, and sprinkle it over the onions through a wire sieve; now place the saucepan again on the fire and cook the onions gently. Finish with a cucumber pickle cut small, and a dash of vinegar. To serve, lay on a dish an equal number of bits of toast with the onions, place one of the latter on each, and pour the sauce over everything.

This very presentable and cheap preparation will be better still if you add a little soup-stalk or dish-gravy to the wine in the sauce. LE B. B.

Sweet Tomato Pickles.—Slice one gallon of green tomatoes, and put a handful of salt to each layer of tomatoes. Let them stand twelve hours, then drain off the liquor, and add to them two green peppers, and from two to four onions sliced. Take two quarts strong cider vinegar, a little more than one half pint of molasses, and two tablespoonfuls of whole mustard, and a teaspoonful of allspice, same of cloves, and heat until it begins to boil. Then put in tomatoes, onions and pepper, and let them boil ten minutes. Pour them into a stone jar and seal tight, and put them in a cool place for a fortnight, after which they will be ready for use, and will keep a year without scalding.

Cider may be kept sweet many years in air-tight cans, after the manner of preserving fruit, etc. It should be settled and racked off free of dregs, but not allowed to ferment before it is canned.

KALSOMINING AND WHITEWASHING.

There are many receipes for whitewashing, but we believe the following to be the best that can be used: White chalk is the best substitute for lime as a wash. A very fine and brilliant whitewash preparation of chalk is called "Paris White." This we buy at the paint stores for three cents a pound, retail. For each sixteen pounds of Paris White we procure half a pound of the white transparent glue; costing twenty-five or fifty cents a pound. The sixteen pounds of Paris white is about as much as a person will use in a day. It is prepared as follows: The glue is covered with cold water at night, and in the morning is carefully heated, without scorching, until dissolved. The Paris White is stirred in with hot water enough to give it a proper milky consistency for applying it to the walls, and the dissolved glue is then added and thoroughly mixed. It is then applied with a brush like the common lime whitewash. Except on very dark and smoky walls and ceilings, a single coat is sufficient. It is nearly equal in brilliancy to "zinc white," a far more expensive article.—Germantown Telegraph.

We know the above named whitewash to be excellent, and it makes the walls beautifully white, or, if you like, you may give them any tint that suits you—blue, green, lilac, buff or rose, by simply adding these colors to the wash, or "kalsomine," which is the proper name for it. But for dining-room, kitchen and pantry, give us the old fashioned lime whitewash. It renovates everything, and leaves such pure, clean odors, that we really feel as though we had been house cleaning to some purpose. To prevent the wash from rubbing off, add to a pailful a pint of moderately thick, flour paste.

THE CURING OF GREEN HIDES.

A great many butchers, wool dealers, etc., are purchasers of the hides of the beef in the country towns, and we often get from them inquiries as to the most proper and profitable method of curing the hide and preparing it for the market. A great many butchers do not use proper care in this branch, and the consequence is that the hides will not pass city inspection, owing entirely to the ignorance and carelessness of persons preparing them for market. The proper way to salt hides, is to lay them out flat, flesh side up, and form a nearly square bed, say twelve by fifteen feet, folding in the edges so as to make them as nearly solid as possible. Split the ear in the cords that run up in the ear in each one, so as to make them lie out flat. Sprinkle the hide with two or three shovelfulls of coarse salt, as the size may require—say, for a sixty to eighty pound hide, from ten to fifteen pounds of salt. At any rate cover the hide well, as it need not be wasted: and let them lie in this from twelve to twenty days, after which take them up, shake the salt out, and use it again.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

FALL-PRUNING GRAPES.

Most grape growers delay pruning their vines until spring. This we think a bad practice. If they wish to make cuttings of surplus canes, they are not near so good as if taken off in the fall and carefully buried or put away till spring. The wood is frequently so much injured by the winter as not to grow in the spring.

But the wood left for producing fruit is better for being pruned in the fall. It is much more easily protected, as it can readily be laid down and covered slightly with earth, and if we have a severe winter it is safe. Indeed we think it would pay to protect vines in this way in our mildest winters.

It is not for the protection of the vine alone, however, that we recommend fall pruning. It is to strengthen the buds and canes which are left. Many think that it will have no such effect. But if they will prune two vines in the same manner—one in the fall as soon as the leaves are destroyed by frost, the other the following spring, they will find that fall pruned vines will be much more vigorous and productive the ensuing summer. The vine is not dead in the winter. Its roots continue to absorb food, though, of course, in much less quantity than in summer. The nutriment thus absorbed is distributed throughout the vine. All the buds are more or less benefitted, but as the buds remotest from the roots always receive the principal flow of sap, they are most benefitted. Now, by pruning in the fall, all this is saved in the buds and cane we have left for bearing. It is upon this principle that we always prune in fall or winter for wood. By summer pruning we check wood growth as all know.

The buds that are left will become strengthened by the sap they have received during the winter. They will push early and vigorously in the spring; and if well cared for, will delight the eyes of the beholders with the large clusters of luscious fruit that they produce.—Rural World.

THE CALVES.

There is no part of the farm stock more liable to be neglected in the fall than the calves which have been raised during the summer. They are often left out late in the season, without shelter, to pick at the frozen grass, and by the time cold weather sets in, are reduced in flesh and cannot be wintered without extra nursing, and even then one or more are often lost before the time for turning to grass.

Calves should enter upon cold weather in good condition and with vigorous health. Shelter and an abundance of nutritious food should be provided so soon as grass becomes frost-bitten and poor, and cold storms of sleet and rain begin to be frequent. They demand the finest and best hay grown on the farm, and should have in addition a little oil meal, bran or oats. Roots will be found an excellent food for calves during the winter, in addition to the oil meal or bran above mentioned. Some prefer oats, say a pint or a little more per day to each animal. We have seen calves wintered through in fine condition upon hay and oats as above, but we prefer a mixture of oil meal and bran, and if it can be had, a daily feed of turnips or carrots. Calves that are well cared for, that have warm shelter and that get a sufficiency of nutritious food, not over-fed, continue their growth during the winter and will usually come in milk when two years old, which is a matter of considerable importance to the dairyman. In our experience in raising stock we find by far the most important period to give close attention to the animal is during its first year. Neglect during that time is almost always attended with loss. A poor runty calf, poorly wintered, cannot be expected to be in milk the next year, and at three years old is no better for the pail than the two years old that has had generous treatment and care from its birth—yet the former has cost considerable more than the latter. Many farmers make no estimate of the cost of raising stock, and hence do not properly appreciate the difference between heifers coming in milk when two and three years old. Every animal raised on the farm should be charged with every item of its expense until it begins to pay the farmer back either in milk or beef. By keeping a strict account with stock we are enabled to see at a glance whether there is gain or loss in the business of stock raising. If such accounts were more generally kept we apprehend more attention would be given to calves in pushing them forward so that a full and early development of the animal be secured. Some object to putting calves in stanchions, preferring to let them run loose in the stable. We have never seen any ill effect from stanchioning calves, but, on the contrary, believe there are many advantages from this mode of management.

Less room is occupied when they are thus confined, and they with their stables are kept cleaner than when allowed to run loose. They are more easily fed, especially when any extra food is given, and each one gets its share and is not driven about by masters or stronger animals. By giving them a run in the yard every day they get sufficient exercise, while the early breaking to the stanchion and the handling daily renders them more docile and more easily managed as they grow older and come in milk.

DIGGING TREES.

All hardy trees (except evergreens) that are to be transplanted in the spring may be taken up now: and all broken roots and the ends of those cut off by the spade should be pared smooth, and then heeled-in in a dry place, covering the roots a foot or two deep. Trees taken up this fall, and carefully trimmed and heeled-in, will be far more certain to grow next year than if the digging is delayed until spring, for the simple reason that the wounds made on the roots will commence to heal during the winter, and be ready to throw out new feeding roots early in the season. Besides this, spring brings its own work, and we are likely to delay transplanting until too late for safety. It requires time for the wounds on the roots of trees to heal over, and it is better to give plenty when it costs nothing additional.

PLANTING BULBS.

Hardy bulbs, such as hyacinths, tulips, crocus and lilies, should all be in the ground as soon as possible. They can be planted later in the season, but they will not do as well as when planted early, for if the soil is too cold to allow them to make new roots this fall, they are very likely to be killed by frost before spring. Early planting is the only safe plan, either for fall or spring.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.

A FARM OF 30 ACRES, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, 27 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa. The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO, A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 rooms and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 126 back to an alley. A good stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

ALSO, In the Borough of Elizabeth, a good two-story BRICK HOUSE, containing 4 rooms. Lot 120 feet square. Will be sold at the exceedingly low price of $2,500.

ALSO, My Farm, known by the name of "Willow Banks," situated on the Connellsville Railroad, 17 miles from the city, containing 79 ACRES, all in good condition. The improvements are a No 1 brick house, two stories high, newly painted, containing six rooms, two halls running full length of the house. The house is situated on a beautiful knoll, is surrounded by fruit trees, shrubbery, vines and flowers, with a graded avenue running to the Yough. River. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connection with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corncrib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The lower vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3½ to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, on at my office.

ALSO, 175 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny city. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, soil, place lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township Westmoreland county, Pa., well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all underland with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a No. 1 barn, 45 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. The land lies well, is well fenced, is in good farming order, and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

Wanted--Printer.—A steady young man, with some experience at setting type, can obtain a permanent situation, by making early application at this office.

Matrimonial.—Alderman Bailie, of the First ward, Allegheny, is quite popular among the young folks of that section. On Thursday of last week five couple were married at his office.

The city is full of members elect to the Pennsylvania Legislature, brought here by the United States Marshal to serve their country on the jury of the Western District United States Court.

Special Meeting.—A special meeting of City Councils, to take action in regard to the vacation of Spruce alley, will be held this afternoon in their Chambers, City Building, at two o'clock.

Alleged Felonious Assault.—Alderman Butler yesterday committed Riley Jackson for a further hearing on Saturday next, on a charge of felonious assault and battery, preferred against him by Albert Cooper.

Beat Him.—William Skillett alleges that John Neal attacked and beat him severely, without cause or provocation. Alderman Taylor would like to see John about the matter, and has commissioned officer Bell to tell him so.

The Funeral of Allen Kramer, instead of taking place from the residence of his son, Mr. Florence Kramer, 52 Liberty street, by special request of the Trustees of Christ M. E. Church, will proceed from that church, after suitable religious services, and thence to the Allegheny Cemetery.

Slight Fire.—An old frame shed near the corner of Webster avenue and Arthur street took fire about four o'clock yesterday morning, and was burned down. An alarm was sounded from box 56, which brought the fire department promptly. The loss was slight.

Destroyed a Window.—John Low entered the house of Herman Ainser, in the Ninth ward, and maliciously broke a window out of the house. At least that is the story Herman told Alderman Taylor yesterday, who accordingly issued a warrant for the arrest of John.

Neighborly Difficulty.—Mary Lloyd made information yesterday, before Alderman Thomas, against Bridget Griffiith, for surety of the peace. The parties reside at the Copper Works, and had a little misunderstanding yesterday, which culminated in the information. Bridget was arrested and gave bail for trial.

Cow Killed.—The Johnstown Accommodation train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, run over and killed a cow yesterday morning, a short distance east of Latrobe. One of the cars of the train was thrown from the track by the accident, which occasioned some little delay. No damage was done beyond that to the animal.

Malicious Mischief.—Sarah Johnson made information before Alderman M'Masters, yesterday, against Thomas Davis and wife, charging them with malicious mischief. The parties reside at that classic retreat, "Limerick." The ill-feeling between them arises out of a difference in nationality. A warrant was issued.

Surety.—Ann Green and Mary Henon are next door neighbors, residing near the Copper Works, above Lock No. 1. Ann alleges that Mary used all sorts of threaten- and abusive language toward her, and she fears that the threats may be carried into execution. Alderman Thomas issued a warrant for the arrest of Mary.

Abandonment.—Lydia Barker made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging her husband, Richard Barker, with abandonment. The prosecutrix resides on Ohio street, Allegheny. She alleges that the accused, who is her lawful husband, refuses to contribute to her support. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Expelled.—An evening contemporary notices the expulsion of several worthy gentlemen from that time-honored local association called "Gideon's Band," on the charge of "unbecoming conduct in issuing a Salt River ticket." The gentlemen demand a hearing and trial on the charge, and we hope justice will be accorded them, as they claim to be innocent of the authorship.

Assault and Battery.—John Fox yesterday made information charging John Biles and four others, whose names are unknown, with assault and battery. The prosecutor resides in East Birmingham, and alleges that the accused attacked and beat him in a shameful manner. The Mayor, before whom the information was made, issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused.

Malicious Miscief.—Vatentine Ruchertzhaus made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Patrick Cummins and James Lee with malicious mischief. The prosecutor is a baker, and does business at 69 Penn street. He alleges that the accused maliciously and wilfully broke the canvas of his bread wagon, damaging it to the extent of eighteen dollars. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Drowned.—Sunday morning a cabin boy on the steamer G. A. Thompson, Captain Piersel, in attempting to dip a bucket of water from the river, was drawn overboard by the force of the current and drowned before assistance could reach him. The accident occurred opposite the town of Linmore, about twenty miles below this city. The body has not yet been recovered. We failed to learn the name of the unfortunate lad.

Found at Last.—David Collins made information on the first day of July last, before Alderman Taylor against Jas. Conway for false pretense. The information set forth that Conway had obtained from Collins by false representation, a trunk against which there was a claim for the payment of a boarding bill. The accused escaped the most vigilant search of the officers until yesterday, when their labors for hisapprehension were crowned with success. He was lodged in jail for a hearing.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—Alderman Bailee had five informations yesterday against parties for selling liquor on Sunday. Four of the informations were made by James Brown, against D. Ling, Hans Michely, M. Geer, and C. H. Gerst. These parties all have establishments in the Third ward, Allegheny, at different localities. The remaining information was made by Thomas Smith against C. Gell, located on the Spring Garden Run road. A hearing was had in all the cases, but judgment was postponed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Child Crushed to Death by a Coal Wagon —The Driver Charged with Involuntary Manslaughter and Delivers Himself to the Authorities.

A most unfortunate and distressing accident occurred yesterday afternoon on Gibbon street, resulting in the death of Catharine Monaghan, a little child eighteen months old, daughter of Anthony Monaghan, residing at 54 Gibbon street, in the Sixth ward. The child it appears was playing in the street, in front of its father's house, when James Flinn, who drives one of Geo. Moffat's brick wagons, was driving a two horse wagon loaded with coal down the street, and not seeing the child, the wagon passed over it, killing it instantly. Mr. Flinn immediately repaired to the Mayor's office and delivered himself up to the authorities to await the result of the Coroner's investigation. The Coroner was absent from town on official business, but will probably return this morning when an inquest will be held.

Mr. Monaghan appeared at the Mayor's office, some time during the afternoon, and made the following information charging Flinn with involuntary man slaughter:

"That James Flinn did carelessly drive a two horse coal wagon loaded with coal over Catharine Monaghan, aged eighteen months, infant daughter of affiiant, and did thereby inflict mortal injuries on the body of said infant Catharine Monaghan, causing immediate death," &c.

It is hardly probable that an indictment for involuntary manslaughter could be sustained in this case, as the offence appears to fall one stop lower in the grade of crime to that of excusable homicide.

"Involuntary manslaughter is when it plainly appears that neither death nor any great bodily harm was intended, but death is accidentally caused by some unlawful act not amounting to a felony; or an act not strictly unlawful in itself, but done in an unlawful manner and without due caution." In this case it is not alleged that the accident resulted from the commission of an "unlawful act," as the man had a right to drive his team on the street. Nor is it alleged that he was driving in an "unlawful manner." It appears that persons on either side of the street saw the child under the horse and called to him, but they were so much excited as to be unable to make him understaud what they wanted.

Mr. Flinn has always borne a good reputation and deeply regrets the unfortunate occurrence; indeed, we doubt if the bereaved parents of the unfortunate child feel more keenly their sorrow and regret the cause of it than does Mr. Flinn, who feels that through him the accident occurred.

It is well enough that the matter should undergo legal investigation, as what is carelessness and what is due care are matters of fact to be determined by a jury in each particular case, and it will be more satisfactory to the unfortunate man, through whose agency the accident occurred, to know that a jury of his countrymen have pronounced him guiltless.

Mr. Allen Kramer.

The funeral of this lamented citizen will proceed from Christ Church, Penn street, at ten o'clock this morning. If the young men and old who can trace their fortunes to assistance furnished at times when most needed—if the widows and orphans that have been helped by his generous hand in the struggle of life—if the thousands who have been the beneficiaries of his bounties and of his charities—if the students of colleges made prosperous by his liberal endowments—if the inmates of widows' and orphans' homes, or of the Training Schools of the idiotic or of the blind, or if the merchants, mechanics and artizans to whose rescue he has come and lifted them over the dead-point in their affairs, enabling them afterwards to achieve success—if all these, with his fellow-citizens, who, like ourselves, have known him through all the activities and vicissitudes of business for forty years as ever kind and genial, illustrating in his daily walk and conversation the unostentatious traits of integrity and uprightness in business, and the gentleness and humility of the devout Christian—if all these could attest their respect and gratitude by attending upon the last offices of friendship to his remains, the number present at his funeral this morning could not be contained in any church or hall in this city.

"We bring our years to an end, as it were a tale that is told."

The Lecture.

Henry Vincent, the distinguished representative of English oratory, opened the course of lectures before the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association last evening in Lafayette Hall. The audience was one of the finest and most appreciative that we have ever seen gathered, and occupied nearly every seat in the auditorium and first gallery. The subject chosen by the lecturer was "Home Life, Its Duties and its Pleasures," a theme which he handled in a very practical and interesting manner, and eliciting, at frequent intervals, hearty applause. The lecture, both in its delivery and in the attendance, was a decided success, and, as the opening one of the course, an encouraging augury for the future. Mark Twain, the California Humorist, is announced as the next on the list.

Attack on a Saloon.

Martin Rice made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against John Sullivan, Henry Torrence and Patrick Higgins, for malicious mischief. Rice is quite an old man and proprietor of a small eating and beer saloon in the neighborhood of Temperanceville. He alleges that the defendants came to his house on Sunday evening and demanded something to drink, which was refused on account of its being Sunday. He states that they then broke open the door, seized and locked him in a separate room, knocked down his wife, who is nearly seventy years of age, and after drinking all the ale they could conveniently stagger under, carried off two large pitchers full of the liquor. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

Aggravated, if True.

A man called at the office of Alderman McMasters yesterday, and stated that about two years ago he went west, leaving his wife and four children in Birmingham in comfortable circumstances, and to whom, from time to time, he forwarded money. Returning home a few days since he found his wife living with another man, and upon inquiry he learned that they had been married, and the woman now refuses to have anything to do with him. He made information against her for bigamy, and against her paramour for fornication, upon which warrants were issued.

Pleasant Reunion.—One of those pleasant incidents that occur along life's pathway, cheering the traveler on his journey, came off on Saturday evening at the Pearl House, No. 17 Sixth street (old St. Clair). The occasion was the presentation of a beautiful silver pitcher to Mr. Mashy, the proprietor, by a number of his friends. The presentatiou speech was made by Mr. J. H. Anshutz, who performod the task in a happy manner. Mr. Peters received the pitcher in behalf of Mr. Mashy, in a few pertinent remarks. The pitcher was then filled with punch, songs and toasts followed, and the party enjoyed themselves until the "wee sma' hours" admonished them to retire. Altogether the affair was most agreeable.

Assault and Battery.—Thomas Redick was arrested and committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Taylor, for beating and abusing his wife, Rosanna, she having preferred an information against him to that effect.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

The Court of Quarter Sessions met at ten o'clock A. M. yesterday, Judge Mellon presiding, when jury trials were resumed.

The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth against Edward Nau, Wm. Mahl and John Shively, jointly indicted for the larceny of a horse belonging to Jno. G. Smith. The horse was stolen from Mr. Smith's premises on Troy Hill, on the 1st day of October last, and sold to Neely Diamond, of West Deer township. Shively was never arrested and Nau and Mahl were placed on trial. Mr. Diamond identified Mahl and Nau as the parties from whom he purchased the horse. A. W. Taylor and James V. Donaldson, Esqs., appeared for the defendants, and District Attorney Duff represented the Commonwealth.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty and the parties were remanded for sentence.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs John Snyder, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday. The accused lives in Temperanceville, and it was alleged by the prosecutor that he sold whiskey to Hunter Wilson, on Sunday, the 25th day of August. Wilson was called by the prosecution but refused to swear that he had bought whisky of the defendant on Sunday. Jury out.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Andrew Sheehan, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, Wm. Carson prosecutor, was next taken up. The accused resides on Tannehill street, in the Eighth ward, and it is alleged that he sold liquor at divers times on Sunday. On trial.

The County Christian Convention.

Those having in charge the arrangements for this Convention have labored energetically and earnestly in the work, and if their expectations are at all realized it will be fully equal in interest and importance if not superior to that held in our city about a year since. The first session opens tonight, in the Second Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Howard's) Penn street, at 7½ o'clock. Although the first session, it will doubtless be one of the most entertaining of the Convention. An address of welcome will be delivered to the delegates, after which a permanent organization will be effected by short addresses and conference and prayer. For the benefit of those delegates and visitors from a distance who will arrive to-day and who may desire a programme for each evening, we append that prepared by the Committee:

Tuesday evening, Conference and Prayer for the presence and favor of the Holy Spirit.

Wednesday morning, What are the Christian's opportunities to do good, at home, in the Church, and as a member of society?

Wednesday afternoon, How can Christian activities of the entire membership of any particular church best be organized and developed?

Wednesday evening, Devotional Meetings at the Church, Cottage Prayer Meetings, Open Air Meetings.

Thursday morning, The organization and work of City Missions. How shall we reach the poor, the degraded, and all who do not attend worship?

Thursday afternoon, Experience, Encouragements and Methods in Lay Preaching and other personal effort to win souls to Christ. How shall the Unconverted be approached?

Thursday evening, What is the work of Young Men's Christian Associations?

It is respectfully requested of those of our citizens who can make it convenient of entertain delegates to leave their names and address at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth avenue, as soon as possible, that all may be provided for on arrival.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE was thronged last evening to its fullest capacity, on the occasion of the complimentary benefit tendered William C. Gallagher, Esq., the greatest living interpreter of the noble Roman Father off the American stage. Hundreds on hundreds of enthusiastic persons were crowded into the auditorium and gallery, and seldom has there been drawn together an audience so well pleased with itself, the tragedy, tragedian and actors. When James Sheridan Knowles produced the sterling historical tragedy of Virginius, he would have given worlds for the pleasure of such an appreciative gathering as was that of last night, to pass judgmant upon its merits; and what would he not have given to have heard the burning words of the text poured forth with the spirit, vivacity, force and power which marked Mr. Gallagher's interpretation throughout. Edwin Forrest gained much of his renown in the portraiture of Virginius, but in his palmiest days he only aimed at what our home historian accomplishes. As a piece of acting we have seldom seen anything better, and are glad that the audience was so made up that not a single burst of passion, no varying emotion swelling within the bosom of the noble Roman father, no gush of pathos, escaped unappreciated. The frequent and prolonged manifestations of applause which broke in between the powerful rendition of the rounded periods, proclaimed the triumph of genius and exaltation of home talent. The entrance of Virginius where, in the first act, he propounds the awful question to the trembling Titus, "Why did you make him (Appius Claudius) Decemvir, and first Decemvir, too?" was a burst of feeling which fairly electrified the audience and moved them to the wildest enthusiasm. Had the question been proposed by the Roman father, "Why did you elect Grant?" no more popular response could have been given. Equally impressive was the scene where the good, faithful nurse Servia solves the mystery of the embroidered work on a handkerchief, wrought by the daughter of Virginius. We remember but once to have seen the beaming countenance of Mr. Gallagher evince the same emotion and that was when he was making out the figures of the election returns at the "old Drury"—plain enough, but he didn't want to see them in the true light. There were pretty love passages where the feelings of the Roman father would have moved to tears a less critical or intellectual audience, but they did not fail to excite enthusiasm. One could have almost imagined when the brave Virginius stood mourning over the bier of the dead Dentatus, and solemnly soliloquizing: "Ah, comrade! comrade! yet warm! So lately gone when I would have given the world, only to say farewell to thee or get a parting look! The God of war might sure have spared a head grown grey in serving him," that Mr. Gallagher stood at the political bier of his campaign leader mourning the taking off.

The announcement of the danger of his dear, darling child, who had been seized as a slave to be appropriated by Applus, was received by Virginius in a manner never to be forgotten by the audience. So much feeling, such an impatience to learn all, and yet a struggle to retain composure, were crowded into a few seconds that the histrion made a ten-strike on the feelings of all present. The court scene was rendered with fine effect, and when the brawny arm of the loving Roman father plunged into the heaving bosom of his daughter a huge butcher knife in order to save her honor and virtue, the brilliancy of acting and power of the interpreter broke upon the audience. It was truly awful to see Mr. Gallagher do such a wicked thing, but it could'nt be helped, as it was in the play.

After this terrible deed of blood Virginius gets mad, and he was the maddest man we ever saw. If the previous acting of the tragedian had failed to make due impression upon the audience, the representation of Virginius run mad as a March hare, would have succeeded in stamping the impress of genius on the interpreter's brow. The finest passage perhaps in this role was the choking scene, where Virginius gets square with the tyrant Appius and strangles him to death because, forsooth, he fails to produce the same daughter butchered by the Roman father, who seemed to have forgotten all about the little transaction.

The play was well produced and everybody was well pleased. The net proceeds realized will amount to about six hundred dollars and we are glad to chronicle the success of the occasion. Between each act the tragedian was called before the curtain and wildly cheered. He made a brief speech, thanking the audience for their presence, and mildly insinuating that although the political fight was over the Democracy had given the Rads the "best fight in the shop." Some enthusiastic individuals, enjoying a private box, hurled to the stage a boquet about the size of a flour barrel, which a whole army of Roman soldiers dragged behind the curtain. A wag observed that while the boquet of paper flowers came from one box the necessary fragrance was dispensed from the opposite one, out of which hung a pair of enormous feet belonging to a member of the State Legislature, who, perhaps, had no room for them inside the box.

To-night Miss Helen Western appears in a favorite bill and as her engagement is drawing rapidly to a close, we hope there will be full attendance.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The Hanlon Brothers, whose reputation as gymnasts is second to that of no performers in the world, gave their opening performance at the Academy of Music last night to a large and fashionable assemblage of our citizens, who manifested, by their frequent and prolonged applause, the delight the entertainment afforded them. The ease and grace with which they execute the most difficult and seemingly impossible feats, elicit the admiration and astonishment of all who witness them. The Hanlons show a degree of physical training which is rarely equaled and never excelled. They visit us this time with a repertoire of novelties, all of their own origination. The young Russian Athlete, Pfau, appeared in his startling feats on the Flying Trapeze, which show a recklessness and skill that are alike wonderful. The Little Wonders, Francis Julien and Victor, are certainly the best juvenile acrobats ever seen in this city. We cordially recommend all in our community to witness the best and most refined amusements that has ever visited this city.

THE CIRCUS.—Mr. C. W. Noyes' Crescent City Circus opened last evening on the Red Lion Lot under the most favorable circumstances. It has been some time since our city was favored with a visit by a first class entertainment of this character, and the crowd which thronged the canvas was beyond all expectation. This is certainly one of the best equestrian establishments on the American continent, and we regret that its stay with us is to be so brief. To-night closes the season in this city, after which the appointments are as follows: Wednesday, the 11th, Birmingham; Thursday, the 12th, Allegheny City; Friday, the 13th, Wheeling, West Va.; Saturday, the 14th, Marietta, Ohio; Monday, the 16th, Middleport, Ohio; Tuesday, the 17th, Ironton, Ohio; Wednesday, the 18th, Maysville, Ky.; Thursday, the 19th, Covington, Ky.

MASONIC HALL.—The Morris Brothers opened last evening at this place to a crowded house, when, if there had been any previous doubt regarding the genuineness of this troupe as the original and celebrated "Morris Brothers," who delighted our citizens with their performances last season, it was completely dispelled, at least in the minds of those present. Those "doubting Thomases," who still have their misgivings, should attend to-night and judge for themselves.

A New Era in the History of American Glass Staining.

A popular American writer in a series of articles, relating almost wholly to domestic affairs, dwells at length upon the tranquility, comfort, power and refinement of such a common affair as a house. We have been led to think that the author in question might have pursued the topic still further, and contrasted uninviting, cheerless, ill-constructed, and ill-arranged habitations, with tasteful, roomy, bright, thoroughly ventilated, heartsome homes. We think it would not be difficult to demonstrate that a handsome modern dwelling, with all the modern improvements, unpretentious, yet providing permanent comfort, is as much superior to a house built hap-hazard, with narrow halls and stairways, dark landings and gloomy exterior, as the latter is to the "lodge" of an Indian, or a cave. A house should do something more than merely shield us from sunshine or frost. It should contribute to social beauty as well as personal comfort. The exterior architectural beauty should be secondary to the interior appointments. We know Mrs. Petroleum or Mr. Shoddy would pronounce in favor of the magnificent exterior, but we are thinking now of manners and those inventions which contribute so much in an indirect way to awaken the finer faculties. The noticeable improvements in the appointments of our public as well as private buildings show clearly that the majority of the community are of the same way of thinking. This is specially true of Church buildings, while he must be blind indeed who fails to observe the remarkable improvements in our school buildings. In the former the United States bids fair to rival the architectural beauty of the old world. Everything in the way of a decorative form, requiring invention, genius, skill, time and patience, not to mention laborious study, can—has been accomplished by American artizans. In all our large cities, instead of the unbroken white glare which was formerly the rule in our churches, the light is softened or subdued. In the West, where, forty years ago, the trapper and hunter plied their avocations, great cities have sprang up which vie with the East in decorating their public and private buildings. It is this fact that warrants the belief that with a little more time and experience the American artizan will soon take up the lap between himself and the European artizan, despite the experience possessed by the latter, an experience embracing the history of many centuries. In the matter of church ornamentation, thanks to the spirit of progress which pervades the country, we have made enormous strides within the last twenty-five years. The taste displayed in staining and enameling church glass is in itself remarkable. We no longer depend upon the foreign manufacturer for designs, or a durable article. This fact was never rendered plainer to us than upon a critical examination of the stained, enameled and ground glass manufactured by Messrs. Page, Zellers & Duff, the well known glass manufacturers of this city. The success of this firm, which recently combined glass staining and enameling with glass making, is something to be proud of. Possessing extraordinary facilities for the rapid execution of an almost unlimited amount of work, they still devote their exclusive attention to the object of producing a superior article. "Excellence" seems to be the motto of the establishment. It is to this fact more than anything else that we must attribute the success which has attended their efforts thus far. Formerly, it was extremely difficult to obtain anything but stereotyped patterns, unless the consumer consented to an interminable delay, occasioned by the limited facilities of parties engaged in glass staining alone. And even then the consumer was limited to the size of the sheets. A sheet five or six feet long, and from two to three in width was a marvel we never came across. Small sheets were the rule. Now, however, the manufacturer steps in to our aid. His facilities enable him to produce a large sheet possessing an area ten or fifteen times larger than those we have been compelled to accept, in a space of time equally short.

A large transom, such as is required for the largest vestibule for a church or a private residence, without the marring effect produced by a sash, a handsome transom for a business house, with the style of the firm elegantly designed, chaste and neat, of any size or pattern, can be furnished by the manufacturer in the same time that the glass stainer formerly occupied in finishing the smallest piece of glass. It is this fact, and the fact that Messrs. Page, Zellers & Duff are determined to devote every effort to attain the greatest perfection in the art, that leads us us to believe we are upon the eve of a new era in the history of American glass staining.

Boys' Clothing.

Messrs. Gray & Logan, No. 47 St. Clair street, have long enjoyed the reputation of holding the first and foremost position as manufactureres and dealers in Boys' and Youths' clothing. At their commodious salesroom will always be found the largest variety and selection and most fashionable styles, which they are enabled to dispose of at prices exceedingly reasonable. The winter stock has just been laid in and is very fine, embracing all the latest cuts and novelties as yet introduced in the eastern cities. The Children's department contains full lines of the Garibaldi, Grecian, Bismarck, Ben Franklin and blouse suits which are very desirable. In the Boys' department will be found pleasing styles of the Metropolitan, Broadway and Harney suits, and the double breasted reeping jackets. In the Youths' department an elegant assortment of English walking coats and jackets and Metropolitan stocks, together with a finely assorted stock of choice and desirable overcoatings. The gentlemen's department is full with all the fashionable and prevailing styles of clothing, and altogether at no other house west of Philadelphia can a more splendid stock be found at such inducing prices. Messrs. Gray & Logan are eminently worthy of large patronage, always doing their best to please their patrons and to lead in style and fashion.

A busy man is a locomotive, and life a track. Every night he drives into "the house," and stops. Every morning he is fired up anew, and away he goes switching off in one direction and then in another. In this routine of business he forgets that the physical organization is of the most delicate kind. If a hard iron locomotive needs constant care, and to be well oiled up and rubbed off every day, how much more necessary is it that all men and women should use PLANTATION BITTERS, which are the ne plus ultra of everything which is necessary to keep the system in a perfect tone of health.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T-F.

Assignee's Sale of Goods.—This morning at ten, and afternoon at two o'clock, at Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, 55 and 57 Fifth Avenue, will be sold, without reserve, the stock of a country store, embracing Notions, Trimmings, Prints, Muslins, Ribbons, Household Goods, Gloves, Hosiery; Dress Goods, Flannels, Shawls, Balmoral Skirts, Hoods and a variety of goods too numerous to mention. At 7 P. M., Carpenters' and Builders' Domestic Hardware Cutlery, Hats and Caps, Clothing, Patent Medicines, &c. Sale continued Wednesday and Thursday at same hours. H. B. Smithson & Co., Auctioneers.

Coughs, Hoarseness, and the various Throat affections to which public speakers, military officers, and singers are liable, relieved by "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Having a direct influence to the affected parts, they allay Pulmonary Irritation. The freedom from all deleterious ingredients makes the Troches a safe remedy for the most delicate female, or youngest child, and has caused them to be held in the highest esteem by those who use them.

Hearing.—A hearing will be had in the Allegheny riot case, before Mayor Drum, this evening. The injured man, Mr. Bothwell, is getting better and will probably recover.

Deafness, Blindness, Catarrh,

And all affections of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver and Nervous System, treated successfully at Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Institute, No. 134 Smithfield street. tf.

DIED:

KRAMER—On Saturday night, at 10 o'clock, November 7th, 1868, ALLEN KRAMER, Sr., aged 66 years.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, from Christ M. E. Church, Penn street, TUESDAY MORNING, the 10th inst., at 10 o'clock. After the religious services, thence proceed to Allegheny Cemetery.
